Guessing you don't want the obvious ones? Shev, Zauri, Jimmy Floyd, Viduka, Kaka, 'dinho, Crespo?

Ah probably not mate, even though Ronaldinho would probably ok since he was pretty much unknown at the time.

There was a guy in one of the updates way back when, but it may not have been from here, Tomi Petrescu. He was a brilliant striker...

I am happy to have discovered the three of them and to have them in Paniliakos, 3 midfielders that make the difference.

Of course i forgot the biggest DM, Erik Bjorstad Hagen.

How low? No money low? There was a good few players mentioned that would cost in/around 200k. Lower prices than that Scandinavia was always good for decent players, but it's been a while so I can't think of any names...

Leave it with me. Might try and refresh my memory by loading it up. 🤖

Heywood 🤖

Oxford was one of my teams back in the day, they've a decent side but they may be a bit over your budget.

A lad from Everton, name's Wayne Rooney.

Brill on the .68 database.

lads,
i would really appreciate if you could upload editor screenshots of the best players from original game's att's like this i think there are clues in here we can use to make the game better for you now 🤖 ideally a player for each position would be great 🤖 if you could put what their ca/pa is as well i would really be gratefull, thanks

Good suggestion, Beez, I might do just that 😊

It's not that difficult really, just keep Reflexes, Throw-ins and One-on-ones at 1, then either have four or five other atts in the 1-4 range (best if they have the same value, all 1s, or all 2s, or all 3s), and lay off the many 20s/19s/18s/17s/16, unless you want to create that insane mothershagger above 😊 Actually, the 3.68 database, which I have the most experience with, has rather easy to see power-level boundaries, not counting the freaks.

Maybe, but it doesn't have any in-game effect I can detect. Neither does Penalties really...
Also, One-on-Ones doesn't behave like most other atts in player creation and neither does Throw-ins 😊

Not what I meant 😊 Say I copied the SIM/ODB Database and I want to revert back to 3.68. Installing the patch doesn't cut it 😊
Also, as I remember, there was a 3.68 Data Files Download on the old server?

Just do a fresh install.. rename the other folder add "odbupdatemarch" at end.... If you wanted to go back and play it just add ".68data" to end and remove "odbupdatemarch" from the end of the other 🤖

Just do a fresh install of CM0102..

First rename the other one you already have installed, add "marchodbupdate" at end like so

If you wanted to go back and play the march update then just add ".68data" to the end of the installed .68 data and remove "odbupdatemarch" from the end of the other.

This is a simple way to have multiple databases on your pc 🤖

By the way, for those who don't feel uncomfortable using CMScout, there are loads of players who retire early and whose regens are awesome and free/cheap.

Continuing from my statement above, try looking for the following three on free transfer after March 2002 on the 3.68 DB:

1. An Uruguayan AMC, high set pieces. Gustavo Poyet's regen. Very high finishing, off the ball and heading.
2. A Ghanaian AMC, very high dribbling and decisions. Abedi Pele's regen.
3. A Colombian SC, very high finishing and off the ball. Radamel Falcao's regen. Yep, he's there, at 15, free transfer, doesn't want to join anyone unless you're playing South American leagues, so he retires March 2002. Potentially every bit the striker he is now.

For the ones using CMScout/GPF2: Consider paying attention to the guys in the 110(even 100 sometimes)-150 PA range. Every league has hidden monsters in that range. Also the regens of players in the 150-175 PA range often decisively outplay their counterparts in the 175-200 range. One example is Darius Wosz for a German AMC. PA = 167. Much better than Effenberg, Moller, Hassler, Ballack and the like.

I don't think Abedi Pele was in 3.9.60 never mind 3.9.68, and according to wiki he retired in 2000.

AMC: I'm playing the 3.68 at the moment. I'm not working from memory 😊

Fodster: I can't make sense of your post, sorry. Both players and regens are part of the original game, since both are the same thing. Some great players in the 3.68 DB are simply old and they retire after the first/second season. Should we write them off simply because they go on as regens? Or is this a thread about great players up to 28 y.o.?

Sergio Lara

Portugal

Montenegro AML
Ricardo Jorge FRLC
Jorge Matos MFL

Norway

Kristian Ravneng DR (great as a DC and an MC as well)
Anders Mathisen SC
Ole Christian Andersen DMC
Tom Arild Fredriksen MC

Ghana

Arriki Afriye FRC
Odartey Lamptey SC

South Africa

Bamuza Sono AMRLC

Congo

Koffi Kalukembi AMC

England

Paul Tierney D/MLC
David Fox MC
Danny Byrne AMR
Kieran Richardson AML
Eddie Johnson FC

Poland

Marcin Kaczmarek DAMRL

Bulgaria

Dian Kirilov AMFC

Nigeria

Omonigho Temile AMRC
Suleiman Mohamed DMC

Non-free transfer, but usually under/around 100K-300K:

Marajo (Brazil AMFC)
Mateusz Dobek (Poland FC)
Yuri Shumanskiy (Belarus SW/D/DMLC)
Bocas (Portugal D/SC)
Nuno Mata (Portugal D/DMRC)
Goncalo Oliveira (Portugal DMC)
Alessandro Sbrizzo (Italy DLC)
Luca Salvalaggio (Italy SW/DC)
Nacho Zaragoza (Spain MLC)
Jose Cano (Spain AMFC)
Ariel Ercoli (Argentina DMC)
Manuel Cabezas (Spain DL)
Toni Amoros (Spain AMFR)
Roberto Encinas (Spain ML)
Capi (Spain FLC)
Fabio (Portugal DMC)
Simao (Portugal DC)
Julio Mugnaini (Argentina SC)
Philipp Weissenberger (Austria AMC)
Ashraf Mamdouh (Egypt FC)
Ahmed Al Sayed (Egypt DC)
Wael Reyad (Egypt FRLC)
Ibrahim Said (Egypt SW/D/DMC)
Shady Mohamed (Egypt DL)
Talal Abu Al Magd (Egypt AMLC)
Orri Freyr Oskarsson (Iceland M/FRC)
Andri Sig?orsson (Iceland SC)
David Hreidar Stefansson (Iceland MRC)
Sevar Freyr Alexandersson (Iceland FC)
Yuri Rodriguez (Andorra FLC)
Michael Dunwell (England SC)
Krasen Trifonov (Bulgaria AMFL)
Gerasim Zakov (Bulgaria FRC)
Ivan Topuzov (Bulgaria SW/DC)
Emil Urumov (Bulgaria SC)
Georgi Andonov (Bulgaria AMLC)
Kristian Bergstrom (Sweden AM/FL)
Kennedy Bakircioglu (Sweden AMFRLC)
Thomas Rosenqvist (Sweden AMFC)
Louay Chanko (Sweden AMFRL)
Fredrik Risp (Sweden DC)
Kim Nam-Il (South Korea DMC)
Lee Young-Pyo (South Korea D/ML)
Marzio Morocutti (Switzerland FRLC)

Somewhat more expensive (1-5 mill.), but world-class:

Daniele Di Donato (Italy DMC)
Manolo Pestrin (Italy DMC)
Ivan Tisci (Italy AMFRLC)
Giovanni Arioli (Italy DMRLC)
Davide Possanzini (Italy AMFRL)
Fabio Gatti (Italy MC)
Enrico Maria Amore (Italy AMRLC)
Michele Mignani (Italy SW/DC)
Nicola Zanini (Italy FRLC)
Francesco Bega (Italy DC)
Salvatore Russo (Italy DMRL)
Cataldo Montesanto (Italy DMC)

Diego Jesus Quintana (Spain/Italy AMFRL)
Ivan Javier Cuadrado (Spain DC)

With about 8 or 9 of the free transfers in my first team I won La Liga with Recreativo, having lost once. What most of them share (especially the cheaper ones) are very high Creativity or Off the Ball or Positioning or Physical skills (Acc/Pace/Jumping) ratings. I've come to the conclusion that out of the technical skills the most important seems to be Creativity. The attacking tactical skill, Off the Ball, trumps even finishing, heading and long shots in terms of scoring. A player WILL score more if he has high ratings in the last three attributes, but they seem nowhere near as essential. The defensive tactical skill, Positioning, simply skyrockets the number of tackles/game on any player who isn't in a F/AM position. Tackling will help a player win more, but even players with low tackling win a fair number of challenges. Jumping skyrockets the number of Headers. Pace seems to be overall very useful.

Out of the bargain guys, I've found the following to do great:

Arriki Afriye and David Avilla for strikers - I play a 3-5-2 so the 2-striker combo doesn't produce many goals (seems to be a characteristic of the game), but both get a lot of dangerous shots after which the I score from rebounds, not to mention key passes. Off the ball seems to be also important for getting that key pass in the last quarter of the pitch (my AMC and two FC's seem to get more if their Off the Ball is better). Orri Freyr Oskarsson and Morocutti are two big bruisers, great for winning headers and holding the ball up.

Marajo, an incredible scoring AMC. Dobek is great for winning headers and getting key passes. Kevin Franck - ditto. Dian Kirilov - tons of runs and goals in the AMC position.

MC - Artur Correia, very effective tackler. Ravneng as well. So is Hreidar Stefansson. Koffi Kalukembi, Alex the MLC and Kevin Franck get a ton of passes in the MC position. Also found out that in my tactic at least DCs also get a lot of tackles in the MC position if their positioning is good. Which is strange since my MCs are basically AMCs wib/wobbed into disguise. David Fox is great overall, especially in terms of headers and goals (pretty good Jumping, 15-20 on Off the Ball).

Wingers - Sergio Lara is great for a right winger, has got great workrate and teamwork, off the ball and crossing. Danny Byrne has huge Creativity, gets a ton of passes in. Same if you put Alex the MLC in the left winger position. Kaczmarek is a great runner, Montenegro is great overall. Bamuza Sono scores a ton, gets a ton of assists, has a very high Off the Ball, passing, crossing. Reyad as well, him you can use anywhere in the midfield/attacking midfield, he will perform. Also Talal abu al Magd, fantastic runner, scores a lot. Strange, but I found out that even if you switch a wingers position (playing a ML as a MR) they don't underperform significantly. Bergstrom and Chanko are great overall, but then again they are very balanced in terms of attributes (also more expensive)

Best defenders in my experience - Espin, Sbrizzo, Ahmed Al Sayed, also (but not as much) Ravneng, Victor, Tierney.

A general observation - if a player is crap at almost everything BUT a particular attribute, it seems to kick that attribute into overdrive. At least that has been true for the ones I described above. I interpret it as the match engine "knowing" that a player's good at only one or two things and then acts accordingly. I've had Espin (Positioning 18, tackling 12, marking 8 or so, jumping 15) tackle Shevchenko into a 4 and a half-time substitution.

Also, in certain situations Off the Ball seems to be interchangeable in effect with Positioning. Sergio Lara and Bamuza Sono, for example are two guys that are absolute crap in the positioning/tackling department, but have ridiculously high OtB. They complete a lot of tackles every game.

Hope that helps somewhat

I've also had some good experience with a Slovakian midfield. Robert Tomaschek is a great free signing at the start, and Czinege, Sedlak, Janocko and Karhan are all worth a look (a bit random some of them, but quite often very good).

Players who will do the business at any level for not much money.

Roberto Palacios - on a free at the start
Bernardo Romeo
Ericsson - a midfielder at Goteborg
Peter Wetherston - striker at Queen of the South

Nery Alberto Castillo
Fabio Aurelio
Jamie Langfield - goalkeeper in Scotland

Budget players ideal for lower league sides

Enrique Estebaranz - on a free at the start of the game.
Leo Fortune-West
Scott Huckerby

I think he was on 3.68 but Vance Warner was a great D/DMC for smaller clubs. Available on a Free at the start and I think his original positioning att was 20. Either that or he reached its max further down the line.

You can usually get Luca Toni for his release value of 4.7M when Brescia get relegated, and that is an absolute STEAL for any top division club

There are loads of good-great players in Italy on relegation and non-promotion clauses, so at the end of season 1 you can really clean up

I recently played against this guy when he was at Helsingborgs and he is an amazing striker, of world class quality. I think he is not mentioned at these forums, so i post a link for all to check him out. When the game starts he is only 15 years old.

I'd like to point out once again (tried to a couple pages back to no success) that it's useful watching out for skillful old dudes from easily searchable nations so you can catch them "on the regen", so to say. In 3.68, Uruguayans like Gus Poyet and Ruben Sosa are great and Uruguayan regens always start on a free transfer. So do Colombians and there you have Carlos Valderrama and a 15-year-old Falcao that usually retires in March in season 1 and usually turns out a beast. Also you have Sergey Gerasimets and Sergey Gotsmanov from Belarus, either at BATE, Belshina or Dinamo Minsk at regeneration, or they change their nationalities to little-known Asian or African countries which are easy to search on the find screen since they have something like 20 players in the game. Two great Swedish playmakers are Stefan Rehn and Stefan Schwarz. Two great Nigerian strikers are Rashidi Yekini and Efan Ekoku. Abedi Pele is a great goalscoring AMC, his regen always starts on a free transfer. Balakov, a great AMC, regen starting on a free as well, also Lechkov, another fine Bulgarian AMC. Meho Kodro is a great Bosnian striker, easy to find even manually. Etc 😊

This is the way i look for regens. I also add filters by attributes which stay the for r'gns.

However.....

Not always, I can do it. Also scouts had problems finding it. Regen at start has world reputation 1 so you needs to browse club in order to get them. There are some "factories" of regens so when you play a lot you notice which club have best youth. Whtzmore, you can even predict where regn will be born

And you all should see the Kavala (greece 2nd division) in the second season, they have a lot of players from 16 to 18 years old who became terrific players in the end of the first or second season, not to mention Le Havre team also.

Dude, what do you think the last 5 pages is full of? We create a thread for almost all 3968 hidden gems, the vast majority of whom are free players. Then we lay them out over a series of posts so that anyone looking for them can find them easily. In some posts there is a even discussion about how many dribbles, tackles, and so on. Then you post in the thread asking for exactly what the thread contains in the format it is already laid out in. I'd be very interested to hear you try to convince me you have read any of this.

Maybe I'm mistaken but I think he's looking for a list of free players.

If that's the case download Database Exporter and have a look for yourself you are not wrong Dermotron. I am looking for a list of free players in odb.

I read all the previous posts and i think "kenny dalglish" didn't made the same about my first post.

Meh, use this - Database Exporter - it will take about 30-40 minutes to export the whole lot and will look as though it's crashed halfway through but unless you get a .net framework error it's fine, just let it run.

You can check the whole lot then.

Or just type No Club into the Find (case sensitive) just one question Monta, why do you need free players with those stats? in the original cm 0102 the easiest thing to do is making money, so why do you need a free player, if in some weeks you can make a lot of money in any team. If you can Alonso Sólis, buy Sergiy Shischenko (don't know if i wrote it right, he is from Metalist and very cheap), Taribo West, Andrés Nicolas Olivera and Yong Sang-Chul, you sell them right after you signed them and this way make a couple of millions to spend in good players.

Ok Duke. My favourite challenge is manage Modena in italian Serie A; Modena has not default money, stadium is only 14.000 people and it is probably the worst team in Serie A teams.

I play with flat 4-4-2 and usually i get free players like:

Davide Belotti DC
Guillermo Amor DCC
Serge Maguy ACS
Gaetano Vasari ACD

i sell Vignaroli and with this gain i buy players like:

Maxim Tsigalko;
Tim Howard;
Kennedy Bakircioglu;

Usually with this team adjustment i qualify Modena for the next champions league (4th almost).

In a single one case i win, in first year Serie A. Guillermo Amor and Diomansy Kamara (changed in role CC) are key players in the middle. Amor made more than 5 take and Kamara, who plays in the midle but more forward made also 3 tk.

That's all you should think in signing Hakan Sukur, horrible atributes, but a natural goalscorer, in one league i made he beated tsigalko as top scorer! but if you need a defensive midfielder, cheap/free i can tell you some:

Free Players

- Emerson Pereira: a little slow, but played well when i took Fiorentina from serie C1B to win the serie A;
- Gustavo Mendéz: also a good player, performs better as left or right defender, but is a decent defensive midfielder;
- Fabio Rossitto: never had him, but heard good things about him;
- Karim Bagheri: like Fabio Rossitto, but a bit slow;

If you can make some money by selling some of the players i told you before, go get Kaluzny (you can only get him in the second season, or get it for free by the end of second season) or Zé Elias (good player, despite getting a lot of red cards).

I love defensive midfielders that make a lot of takles; Amor makes about 5.0 tk per game. In your list only Ze Elias, that i have tried, make a similar number per game.

Rossitto about 4.0... I play with the second official patch and Kaluzny is not going to be bosman free.

I had appreciable results also using Maxi Rodriguez (Espanyol) in the middle (CC on the right, not on right wing). He play well coupling with a CC (on the left) that made more tackle. Kamara Diomansy or BALLACK are the best.

Karmi Bagheri? I have never tried this.

Do you know other players that make more tackles?

-Assane N´Diaye from Shakhtar Donetsk: the problem is that you can't buy him before december of the first season, sometimes only in the end of first season. is a bit expensive, around 4.3 million € (or 2,7 million £), but is the best defensive midfielder that i managed in cm 0102 (only beaten by Van Bommel and Patrick Vieira), he rarely stays under 8.0 in game performance a does a lot of tackles;

- Matthew Holland, from Ipswich: managed him in Ipswich and Newcastle, played really well, but don't know his price, but expect him to be a little expensive;

- Mikael Dorsin, from Djurgardens: he is a really good left back who also plays as dm, but he is better as left defender;

- Park Ji-Sung, from Kyoto Sanga: also a bit expensive, around 12,5 million €, but his worth the money, plays really well, scores some goals, and by the end of first season he is a real monster. don't know very much about tackling, because i used him as a right midfielder (where he played better), but he his defensive midfielder right/center.

- Matei Mirel Radoi, from Steaua: good player, central defender and defensive midfielder, a bit cheaper than N'Diaye and you can buy him right in the beginning, plays really well but get a lot of yellows;
- Sebastian Battaglia, from Boca: heard good things from this player, but never trained him;
- Ezequiel Carboni, from Lanús: the same as Battaglia;
- Leonardo Ponzio, from Newel's: great player, can be trained to be a dm, but is a cm;
- Adrián Bastía, from Racing Club: same as Battaglia;

i know Assane N'Dyae, in the shaktar team there is also Isaac Okoronkwo and Agahowa, very good cheap players.
In my flat 4-4-2 i always buy Lee young-Pyo on the left defensive line. My favourite and possible team, playing Modena Serie A first season is:
Ballotta as GK and Captain;
Zamboni DD
Davide Belotti (free) DC (right)
Simone Pavan DC (left) '20 in passing'
Lee young pyo DS
Vasari Gaetano (free) CD
Serge Maguy (free) CS
Diomansy Kamara CC on the left, '20' in heading and positioning. I seen, reading the game log, that he tries a lot of shoots on goal using head.
Guillermo Amor CC on the right, more important positioning and aggressive also passing,
Maxim Tsigalko AC
Rubens Pasino AC

as Kenny Dalglish says, why don't you play Colucci? in for your midfield you could have bought Morten Gamst Pedersen for the left side, Alexander Farnerud for the right side and Mark Kerr to play in center. they are very cheap and with a midfield like this you can access champions league places easily.

Colucci is a good technical midfielder. Usually i change his role in "defender midfielder". Anyway i don't play him cause Vasari on the right wing is better than Colucci (more pace, more stamina, more cross, and finally more dribbling), in the middle i'd like more tackle and Colucci is a light player in this skill (Amor or Rossitto are better), the other central midfielder should has skills like: heading, jump and finalization (kamara changed in role has this skills).

I specify that the other central midfielder (on left central), in my own tactic (4-4-2 flat wi and wo), makes a lot of furtherance on goal than the other central midfielder. He attempts a lot of shot on goal; a tipical central midfielder that fit very well this role are: Ballack or Tim Cahill (AUS). The latter one obviously is cheaper. Kamara also guarantes more tackle, about 3,0 per game; Ballack and Cahill not enough.

Hallo, i am looking for a defensive midfielder that made a lot of tackle playing as CC. Minimum 5 tackle per game. I have no much money so players like Vieira, Gattuso, Van Bommel are no cheap...

Can you suggest me any?

i bought Hasan Cetinkaya yesterday always playing Serie A first season ODB with Modena. I try him as second CC in my flat 4-4-2, but he made only 2 tk per game. Colucci who he's better as technical midfielder than Cetinkaya made the same number of tk.

I think Guillermo Amor is better; he is free on startgame but it is not sure to buy him. I hope to buy Assane N'Dyae on January, cause now he is just joyining Shaktar. I think 5.0 or more Takle have to be guaranteed with N'Dyae.

Mine would be slightly different, some good names there though (not many better than Tsigalko, Bakircioglu, Young-Pyo, Farnerud or Ze Roberto)

The original database on mac is not the same as PC. The mac version no longer works on non-Power PC architecture and so I was driven to Bootcamp my mac.

As the database is different, I refuse to play the original game and now only play with the new updates.

Trond Fredrick Ludvigsen was unbelievable and cost nothing.

Vitali Kutuzov was the best player I ever used in the game. I even saw him live, when he scored for Belarus to beat us 1-0 at Hampden a number of years ago.

Nial Thompson was a good player for the lower leagues, as was Raul from Yeclano 😊

Hi all, i played this game for more than 10 years ever with the odb 3.9.60 (no pathes, no updates) but every time i begin a new season my problem is the same: who will be my GK?

I tried lots of GKs but i didn't succeed in finding the best one.

I need a GK that is the best one from the first game of the first season.

So i ask you for help to find the best GK for the first season. Thanks

I remember you i'm on ODB 3.9.60

Was that Frey guy not good? Spelling could be an issue there.

I always liked Carroll at Man U, Kirkland at Liverpool or Andreas Isaksson. Any of those were good if you wanted a youngster who developed well.

Voulgaris is another, Chiotis would be my pick though.

ODB patch .68. Brazilian/Portuguese striker Pena. He was bench material at FC Porto, I recruited him at Vitoria Setubal in January 2004 for £1.8m + sign-on bonus of £425k, and a weekly wage of £2.8k.

Hi all guys. I have a little problem with the only striker of my formation. I read on this site that lots of people that use a tactic with only one striker score lots of goals with him. I'm using odb 3.9.60 with no patch or update and i'm using iodine CF as tactic but my striker score about 50-60 goals per season and not 80+ goals per season as i read on many threads on this site. I think my problems are both the amc behind the striker. So I would ask you who are the best amc of the odb 3.9.60 and what values I have to look for finding good amc as substitutes. Thank you very much and sorry for my bad english

I always found Shaun Teale from Southport to be a great signing for D2 and D3 sides. Old but got two superb seasons out of him, average rating of 7.45 too!

I'll try and give my small contribution if possible. These are some of the players I had the chance to find in my 22-season split as coach of Arminia Bielefeld. I honestly couldn't say how many are 'real' and how many are not, and I apologise in case some overlap with players already mentioned.

I've seen in the lists some names I know because I had the players in my Bielefeld game, of course they're all great:

Jonas Lunden
Pawel Brozek
Maxim Tsigalko
Andrei Milevsky
Dionisis Chiotis
Giacomo Cipriani
Emil Debski
Julius Aghahowa
Pawel Brozek
William Viali
Radosław Kałużny
Andres d'Alessandro
Kieron Dyer
Rolan Gusev
Peter Ofori-Quaye
Damiano Zenoni
Phillippe Mexes
Tò Madeira

Unfortunately, my save file from that game is gone, so I cannot resume it :'(

Marco Negri - great free-agent forward if you start in 01-02 with a second league team.

Robert Koren - left wing, for a middle-chart team will be like Giggs!

Marcel Rocca - great playmaker but won't easily adapt to play in front of the defense, his original spot is only central midfielder.

Oliver Ziegler, Salvador Marquez - goalkeepers, Ziegler in particular is a real crack, can become captain of the German international team if you let him play.

Jose Viera - Portuguese attacker (L, C, R) with a great nose for assisting.

Leonard Haas - striker, grows up in Bayern Munich B.

Stephen Reid - versatile midfielder with super playmaker abilities.

Sebastian Kehl - well you all know him I assume Hilàrio - All-sides defender, not your top-league-starting-11 buddy but a great substitute for any position in the defense.

Lopes Silva - central defenders

Filipos Darlas (also defensive midf. and def. right mid.)
Marvin Andrews

Christian Weber and Christian Klein - defenders and defensive midfielders, respectively right and left. Monstre. Weber won the FIFA World Player a couple of times if I remember correctly. Klein becomes captain of Germany after Ziegler leaves.

Jose Padilla - nr. 10 but can also play as an attacker.

I have other players by the sackful, but I cannot recall them at the moment since the years have passed by. I'll try to remember them and post them little by little.

Do you play the 3.9.60 DB or the 3.9.68 DB?

Hes a player I never really see mentioned. He's at Telford when game starts (Orig DB).

Get him for £100,000. Ive had him at top clubs and at lower leagues hes always a good DM or CM. Anyone else buy him?

best players

I use play this game years ago when it came out first, now i have windows 7 i play it again, i usually go man united, the formation i use and i have unbelievable success with is 2 centre backs, 3 def mid, 3 att mid, and 2 strikers, its very narrow formation, im just wondering any hidden gems besides the usual who you would recommend? also i won everything in my first season and in my 2nd i won the league, fa cup and champions league, yet still not offered international job?

Ednilson - DMC - Portuguese / Guinea-Bissau, ODB 3.9.68.

He is 19yr-old at the start of the game, plays in Benfica B. They are unlikely to let him go for less than £1m, he needs ~£1k/w in wage. Turned into an absolute wonder midfielder for me in my Vitoria Setubal game (see the Stories section), despite good but not overpowered attributes. Makes a very reliable captain too.

A greek MC of Kavala I think. Something like Doukas, my best passing player ever!!!

And C.Boutsianis, perfect for a lower club!

Ryan Williams from Hull is amazing on either ODB or the official updates.

Richie Wellens likewise - a great English pairing for midfield.

Alexandros Papadopoulos is INSANE.
I don't have him but in my career, after 5 seasons, his attributes are pure insanity and he just arrived in Arsenal, and in 6 months he won tons of awards and congratulations can somebody when they get some free time please post me some screenshots of some of the guys in this thread, along with their CA/PA and position?

would really appreciate that.

cheers

Okay here is the shortlist i am currently working on. it contains all players from the original CM01/02 game but some players have different attributes depending on database 3.9.60 and 3.9.68. The list is long, so it will take a bit of time before im done, and some players may accure twice, but when im done the list will contain almost all gems, legends and good players of both 3.9.60 and 3.9.68 databases.. if anyone has a shortcut to make large shortlists quicker or easier? they are welcome to write me :O)

Hi Fodster

i am currently working on a shortlist for CM01/02 3.9.60 and 3.9.68 that users can download. it will contain the names mentioned. the list is long, and it takes a bit of time, so i thought i would start of by showing the players the list will contain.

hope this answers you question? :O)

Well yeh but you don't post them here in that format, you need to save them into a shortlist in game, save the shortlist and post the saved shortlist link....

Anyway, super list marc1986. Some real classics and other obscure interesting players. Enjoyed discover all of them in the game. I used to get a good personnal shortlist of 1500 players back in ze days. But lost now. Working to build a new one.

You need to load maximum database in Game Settings and/or the nation/league they play in Main changes between .60 and .68 can be seen on the .68 download page in downloads.

You need 3.9.68 for the "Super Greeks", they aren't in the original 3.9.60.

Some of them already are on the original game, but in both versions you have the super nordics, you can win the champions in 1 or 2 seasons with a team made only with players bought in the swedish league.

Not in 3.9.68 - only ODB

Hey Guys,

first sorry for my bad english, I am not a native speaker. :/

Is there any list for the version 3.9.68? The posts here are a bit confusing. Is this list for example a mixed one or just for the version 3.9.68?

I think this guy has been mentioned as someone who's regen is good, but for the first season Sergey Gerasimets is amazing. He'll sign for anyone - got him for Leigh RMI and Welshpool before - is a good coach as well and can play at any level. He did well for me behind the front two for Everton and at Division One level regularly gets me 30+ goals per season.

The only issue is that he'll always retire at the end of the season, but for a short-term solution he's outstanding.

Free players

Hi, guys.

I personally play CM 01-02 in its "original" form. By original, I mean squads/teams. Personally I just can't play it with updated squads: there is something nostalgic about playing as Liverpool with God, aka Gerrard, as a 20 YO.

Anyhow.

When it comes to signing players, I usually have a very strict "cheap/free" players policy. Even when I managed Madrid for instance, I'd try to go for the bargains (usually from Sweden and the FSU).

I've put together a list of the best available free players at the beginning of the game. Later on, I may make a thread about the bargains, hoping that I am not aware of all of them, so you guys can chime in with a few extra ones.

* : I've personally signed this player and can attest to his (good) performances.

- GK
- Ljubo Kovacevic*, Serbia. His stats are amazing for a 23-YO nobody with less than a year's pro experience (in Greence) under his belt.
 - Uwe Gospodarek*, Germany. Once signed him to my Osnabruck team (chose them because American Joe Enochs played there).
 - Bernard Lama, France
 - René Higuita, Colombia
 - Adam Matysek, Poland
 - Di Palma (forget 1st name), Italy

RB:

Are there any decent out-of-contract RBs in the game when you start? Please advise.

- CB:
- Taribo West, Nigeria. I have never signed him because I either start with a pretty solid team OR the team that I start with has little to no money (or zero incentive) for him to join but am aware he's a CM legend.
 - Frank Amankwah, Ghana
 - Marinko Galic, Slovenia
 - Nelson Akwari, USA
 - Paulao, Brazil
 - Des Walker, England. Never signed him but know from reading that he's a solid performer, specially for smaller/lower-league clubs.
 - Arley Dinas, Colombia
 - Javier Margas, Chile

- LB:
- Agostinho*, Portugal. Solid player, great set-piece taker. Some of his stats are a bit deceiving but he'll get the job done.
 - Jersson González*, Colombia
 - Robert Jarni*, Croatia

- DM:
- César Sampaio*, Brazil
 - Klas Inghesson*, Sweden
 - Billy McKinlay*, Scotland
 - Hugo González*, Argentina
 - Thomas Lebih (sp?), Cameroon

- AM:
- Jesper Blomqvist*, Sweden
 - Igor Shalimov*, Russia
 - Walter Picó*, Argentina
 - Walter Paz, Argentina
 - Kelwin Sebwe*, Liberia
 - Leslek Pisz* (sp?), Poland

- Attacker:
- Joao Paiva*, Portugal. Used him on that same Osnabruck team and he was unreal.
 - Ronald Zaimi, Albania
 - Kiko, Spain
 - Jairo Castillo, Colombia
 - Paulo Nunes*, Brazil
 - Adrián Guillermo*, Argentina
 - Enrique Estebarez, Spain
 - Davor Suker*, Croatia
 - Tomislav Erceg*, Croatia
 - Kaba Diawara, France
 - Marco Negri, Italy
 - Víctor Bonilla, Colombia. Once I fought for the title with Talleres in Argentina and this guy was my go-to attacker: scored nearly one goal per game.
 - Igor Kolyvanov, Russia.

If there are any FREE players that you want to add, please feel free. These are the ones I can remember and have come across for the most part.

Regards.

Have any of you guys ever signed Antchouet? Lower-league bargain from Portugal. Also, what about Mourad Meghni and Cleiton from Bologna? Both always get amazing scouting reports.

Yeah I've signed Antchouet a fair bit. Kind of limited once you step up to top divisions in the better leagues but very good for Norway, Scotland, Denmark type leagues

You have your names mixed up, I believe. God is Robbie Fowler.

Also, you're missing Martins as a top class FC who's free at the start of the game. Hard to sign him to anywhere that doesn't have Italian or English as language, though Andrew "Fimbo" Mukasa, don't know if he's in the ODB but he's in Luessenhoff's db. Pure gem of a striker.

Guardiola?

and even if it is not good, playing with the database on maximum, there is one Cristiano Ronaldo always free... sometimes he ends up being nice for a lower league team.

There was that 1 player I always bought called Bruno Ferras das Nevez from Gremio. He was the best playe I've had on the game. but only when you'd scout him after about 1,5 season. After 6 seasons the guy's matchrating has only been under an 8 3x, scoring around 50-60 goals and assisted around 20-30 average per season for me.... Gremio will ask a ridiculous price of something like 50 million while he's worth only about 5-7 million.

Also some other really good players:

Ruslan Nigmatullin
Fausto Rossini
Javier Portillo

I couldn't get a tune out of Tomaschek when I signed him for my Hearts team some years ago. Perhaps he takes time to settle in a new country or he didn't like Edinburgh full stop.

Guo Hui. Wow, just wow. Starts out at Dalian in China on the original 3.9.68. You have to splash out about 20k for him, he'll repay you with about 1,000 goals by the time his career finishes so works out about $20 spent for each goal lol

Am I imagining things or did someone make a database that was a combination of .60 and .68 as well as future stars. Had a quick look but can't remember the name or location of it.

Anyona mention the legendary free transfers?

- Butra (FC)
- Espín (DLC)
- Agostinho (D/ML I think?)

Loved those guys. Bit limited in top league's except Espin. But on lower divisions they were amazing.

He was a real player. Labeled as Ronaldinho's replacement, after the latter joined PSG on a free. Never lived up to the hype, though

On the 3.9.68 database there is a Dutch kid that I have never come across before called Erwin Jans who starts off as a 15 year old at Heerenveen. AMC with 20's for Finishing and Teamwork, 19 for Technique and Set Pieces and basically great stats across the board.

Just start a random game on the ODB and do a search for him, in all the numerous lists I have seen over the years for great unknown players I have never seen him, maybe his stats are randomised for each game?

Nobody on .68 by that name mate.

Possibly he's a regen?

In my first season with Setubal he finished with an average rating of 7.80 (ranked 5th of Primeira Liga) and was by far Liga's best tackler with a whopping 5.7 tck/game.

I'm acutely aware that i'm quoting a post from five years ago, but what's the font being used here? It looks awesome.

v3.9.68 - Good Players?

I've just started a new game with Celtic on the v3.9.68 official patch, after only playing CM0102 with the data updates for the past few years.

Can you recommend to me some of the hidden gems who appear on this patch? I've already signed Taribo West, Mike Duff and Skalidis  but struggling to remember any more legendary players from the OG database.

Mark Kerr is a legend. Plays in Scotland, at Hibs if I remember correctly.

CM at Falkirk? Never actually thought of looking for players based in Scotland

Raffaele Morini

Guy looks a bit of a freak but never heard of him before

I dunno if this San Marino dude loaded up strangely because I am using (max load).

I am using odb on version .68

Anyone else seen him before?

he is in the San Marino squad and also plays in Serie C1/B for the club side San Marino.

I played CM0102 a lot when it came out and I never bought Tsigalko / Madeira and never heard or saw of them. If you don't buy them, do they remain in obscurity?

From memory I don't remember ever seeing either in the Premiership, they seemed to join or stay in lesser profile leagues

The AI only ranks players on CA so a top team on ODB would never touch Tsigalko or Skalidis or Madeira unless the human manager buys them and their stats go off the charts...

No it just means the player have a higher chance of having a PA140+ more often than a player with -1. PA200 is still the max a player can have. It's benefit is it 2 players with CA90 and 1 has PA100 and the other PA-2, the latter will be a fair better player more often.

Cheers.

I have just done season 1 with Palermo, and have scouted Le Havre in France, and noticed they have a young Anthony Le Tallec and Florence Sinama Pongolle. IRL they both went to Liverpool, heralded as the next best thing. It never quite materialised, but has anyone bought these guys in CM01/02?

I've signed them in the past, they can be a bit hit or miss I think. I can't quite remember who the better one was.

Benoît Cheyrou was good, I seem to remember he was linked with Liverpool at the time.

Hello All

A newcomer from Nottingham, England. Convinced by the great interaction on Twitter to get back into this wonderful game!!

I am starting as Sheff Wed. Major financial difficulties and need Free signings. I have secured the great such as Duff, West, Palacios. I am in real need of a genius wide midfielder and striker on a free transfer. Any suggestions?!

Hi there! I, too, just started a new save game using Bournemouth, down in Div.3, so worse off than where you are starting. But, I referred to post #268, by GFRay, for player signings and most of them have been superb!

You can try switching between Nagoya Grampus and Jack's 21412 formations, which are both equally effective for the following players I bought:

1. Striker - David Collins (from Radcliffe) - 1st season 97 goals (using Nagoya) 2nd and 3rd seasons 51 and 45 goals (using 21412)
2. Striker - Jon Coppinger (from Garforth) - 2nd and 3rd seasons 47 and 27 goals (using 21412)
3. Striker - Justin Jackson (from Doncaster)
4. Striker - Saevar Freyr Alexandersson (from Afturelding)
5. Winger - Gez Murphy (from Kettering) - 2nd and 3rd seasons 22 and 20 goals (using 21412)
6. Winger - Steve Barnes (from Welling Utd) - 2nd and 3rd seasons 18 and 15 goals (using 21412)
7. Jamie Victory (from Cheltenham)

All the above names can be found on GFRay's list, which includes many many more! I couldn't sign most of them, as I was starting in Div.3 but you may be more successful.

Good Luck and have FUN!!

Oops, sorry! Just realized you were after free signings...none of those I mentioned were free but can be obtained for really low transfer fees...i bought David Collins for 16K and Coppinger for 7K but, you may be able to get someone for free on GFRay's list, perhaps.

Some of these players aren't available on the version I'm running? Are these from .65 or .68?

I suspect it'll be a mixture of .60, .65 and .68. Could also have something to do with database size for the more obscure players.

3.9.60 is Season 01/02 (so just installed from the disc/iso)

3.9.68 is Season 02/03 (players and clubs, histories are a bit messed up)

And the main reason why I've never played this database so far.

It's Championship Manager 02/03, but with start date at 2001 (if you don't use a patch to fix that). It's something my OCD has never been able to handle 🤖 lower league gems

Here are just a few names I remember when I was playing this game way way back when. I got Torquay into the premiership but with wingers or attacking wing backs and an attacking midfielder....I know that is frowned upon in here a bit.....certainly in terms of tactics. But just a few players I took from the lower leagues and who were successful up to and mostly including the premiership...these are start of the game transfers.

GK - Andy Richmond Chesterfield. You can get him for about 30k. He is always good but develops with consistently high performances and becomes great at the very highest level including internationally.

GK - Smith (maybe Paul and possibly at Brentford. I think this was year two but keep an eye out for a goalkeeper. I had both keepers and had to sell one....I sold smith and again he goes onto to the very highest level

Chris Brandon - Torquay MR - play him as a right midfielder or a winger or even wingback...select the option that allows him to run with the ball...hes great and will help get promotions...cant remember if he played in the premiership but he is fantastic.

Torquay are blessed at the start with a lot of prolific strikers like David Graham and E Williams but the best to get is Gareth Law. Hes very young so he doesnt have to be an automatic starter but if playing this game over many seasons he is lethal and plays in the Premiership.

I raided Scunthorpe for two players at the start -Scott Brough ML/C AM - he is brilliant and goes to the Premiership. I think i paid about 60k for him My best signing but only if played at AM is Alex Calvo Garcia - he requires a big salary and he is not that cheap for the lowest league but I got him for about 300 hundred thousand and he is amazing in the AM role. 40 odd goals or more each year for about five to six years.....only starts to drop off at about 35 years old. I cant recommend this player highly enough in the AM role. He goes near to the highest league level before he starts to drop off a bit.

Loads have mentioned the legends of Mike Duff at Cheltenham and Steve Palmer at Telford so no point rehashing that but if you put them in your team its a very good idea. Get both for about 150k. Jamie Victory is also great on the left both defnsively or further forward - cant remember where I bought him but he goes onto the Premiership.....Darren Way at Yeovil and Mark Camm (cant remember) are both very good signings. Thats all that I remember for now but such happy times playing this amazing game!

Good players for Gravesend who are free/very cheap

Hey,

This has probably been asked countless times way back when but can't find any threads in the recent past so thought I'd seek some advice on a new thread.

I've started a new game with Gravesend on the ODB with official patch installed and I'm looking for some of the classic free transfers/cheap buys who can help me gain promotion from the Conference. I've rarely tried playing games at this level so unsure of who to go for right at the start. Any help would be welcome!

Henry

Sergey Nikiforenko

Sergey Nikiforenko Is up there with the best of them on the original version of CM 01/02.

He is an attacking mid/fwd.

I have signed him for every team I have played with after he destroyed me whilst he was playing for a mid term Italian side when I was Juventus manager.

You can pick him up for £250 and guaranteed 15+ goals plus plenty assists event season.

Stats don't look very impressive but he will keep the like of Aimar and other big names out of your side.

Must say that i played Millwall millions of times in ODB but now with .68 he is much better or it comes because i used a new tactic from download section, Prime suspect...

Surprised few have mentioned good old Pep. Available on a free at start of game, 2 months into second season and he's been my best player for spurs. Rated by alot of the players as very important player.
An absolute must purchase if you can get him.

Another one who's banging them in for me at the moment is Mario Frick. Been aware of him since I started playing this game on its release but never seen him be this good.

He has 17 or above for practically every attribute you'd want in an attacker and scored 20 in the first 20 for me when I started this season in Premier League. Only cost £4.2m from Derby as well because of a minimum fee release clause.

Think he can be bought cheaply at the start too, Derby paid about £850k for him.

Check out civard sprocken. Was valued at 800k at feyenord but had to pay 6.5m for him in second season. A DM who plays well in CM.

Definitely worth checking out been great for me so far.

It's kinda common knowledge.

Just signed a Georgian called Giorgi Adamia who looks very good, never heard of him before. Can play RM or FC, I've opted to use him as a right midfielder because his crossing is 20 but looks equally adept at striker.

Starts the game as an 18 year old at some Georgian club. Not sure if he'll be as good in other saves, it might be the game doing that thing where a few random players become really good.

Will also add Ismail Yakabu from Barnet. Dunno if it's just 3.9.68 but he always turns into a world class defender.

Daniel Chillingworth from Cambridge has turned into a top striker on my save as well but don't know if he always does. Cambridge always have some fantastic prospects at start of game (Angus, Youngs, Kitson etc).

Denmark's Thomas Christensen (the biggest playmaker I've ever bought), Emil Debski (good finishing and long shot) and Morten Skoubo (on the top strikers double as many goals scored as apps a season).

I've come across him recently, decent find. Georgia is a good source of players early on.

Don't think I've seen his name mentioned much (which surprises me) but Kim Nam-Il is a top DMC. Can be bought for as cheap as 275k as well.

Has anyone managed to evolve Cristiano Ronaldo to a great player on the .68 ODB?

Not sure if this guy has been mentioned before, but has been superb for my milan team in the 1st season and a half.
